Great Auto Trip, El Paso To Las Cruces By Way of Organ Mountains

Snow Is Now on the Mountains, Mesas Are Abloom With Poppies and Roads Are Good—Easily Driven in a Day, With Plenty of Time for Sightseeing and Rests.

R. H. RINEHART and G. A. Martin made a trip Sunday in their Chrysler car to the ranch of Clyde Holmer, 18 miles up the Rio Grande from El Paso. Going up, they made the run north of Mount Franklin to and through San Augustin pass, down through Organ and Dona Ana, N. M., and then north to Mr. Holmer's place, through the valley. Returning, they came back down the valley road through Dona Ana, Las Cruces, Mesquite and Canutillo. The total mileage was 128. They found the roads in good shape except for short distances north of Dona Ana and across the mesa and foothills between Organ and Dona Ana, where there is considerable sand and some arroyos, none however, that were not easily negotiable. In the upper valley, above Dona Ana, they left the main road to see some of the farms and had some trying experiences in its rough, rutted and irrigated fields, returning with cars, even to radiator hoods and fenders, covered with mud. Keeping to the main road, however, the trip is easily made.

The run up to the Organ, through San Augustin mesa and back to El Paso by way of Las Cruces, is an ideal day's outing for El Paso motorists and is well worth the trouble. The 25 miles to Organ from Pioneer plaza was made in four hours, notwithstanding that the ascent of the mesa after passing Cox ranch, is about four miles and is very steep. A strong wind was blowing from the south, making the going very difficult. However, the beauties of the trip compensate for the trouble, as the entire north side of the mountain range is covered with snow, and the mesa country, for several miles before the pass is reached, is dotted with beautiful forms of poppies and other vegetation. In another two weeks, all the country from Fort Bliss to the pass will be a vast bed of flowers, but some of the snow will have disappeared by that time.

After reaching the top of the pass, it is possible to coast into Organ, three miles away. This was done yesterday, while the engine cooled, and run from Organ to Las Cruces, an hour is all that is necessary for the run, regardless of the wind. The trip is a complete time run from Las Cruces to El Paso with the roads in their present condition. The Camino Real in such a splendid shape as now. Messrs. Rinehart and Martin made the trip from Las Cruces in two hours easily. When the road now building from Las Cruces to Organ is completed, half an hour will be sufficient to cover the distance between the two places, coming in from Organ, as it is down grade all the way.

To make such a trip, it is best to go up over the mesa by Fort Bliss and turn by the Camino Real, down the valley, as the road between Organ and Las Cruces is easily negotiable. When the hill from Organ, then uphill from Las Cruces. Automobiles should leave the town at about 8 a. m. and start going the southwestern grade beyond Fort Bliss, taking the left hand road at the sign giving directions to the ranch. It is then impossible to miss the road to the pass. A few gates are to be opened and closed, but no hand, it is not necessary to get out of "high" even with a small car, until the ascent of the pass is commenced. Just before reaching the Cox ranch, the road divides, one fork going through the pass to Las Cruces, the other to Alamo. The left hand road should be taken. A sign, however, points the way, so there is no danger of getting onto the wrong road.

Leaving El Paso at 8 o'clock, with no accidents, the trip can be made in ample time for lunch. However, if the automobiles desire to carry a lunch, it would be worth while to take the old mines at Organ, particularly the Stephenson-Bennett, which is passed after leaving Organ, on the way to Las Cruces.

In the party Sunday besides Mr. and Mrs. Rinehart and Mr. and Mrs. Martin, were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Berkshire, Clyde F. Holmes, Joe Sheldon and Miss Edith Crutcher.

BORDERLAND ROUTE BOOK IS ISSUED

Give the Wrong Directions on Leaving El Paso for Deming—Gives Many Views Along Route.

The route book of the Borderland Highway has been issued by the Transcontinental Touring club of America. The log gives optional journeys to El Paso from Roswell, and the route either down the east side of the Franklin and Organ mountains, or through San Augustin mesa and Las Cruces.

West of El Paso, it gives the old route, north along the Camino Real, a point opposite Mesquite, thence west to Deming. The route was changed several months ago and now the route from El Paso instead of at Mesquite, 14 miles north, as given in the route book.

Pictures of scenes along the routes are given, also write-ups of the different towns through which the route passes from Dodge City, Kas., to Los Angeles, but no pictures of El Paso are given.

Of El Paso, the book says: "At El Paso, metropolis of the southwest, the tourist is in the heart of the dreamy, romantic, with turbulent land of Mexico, and it is but a step across the border to the land of the seat of battles during recent revolutions. In Juarez may be seen streets, missions, low adobe houses, and a thoroughfare that country, and as they have been for generations past. Many days may profitably be spent here in sight-seeing, as well as at other points of interest about El Paso."

"West of El Paso, the traveler plunges into the desert, and whether it be morning, noonday or sunset, the region is full of weird and fantastic charm. Vegetation is scant for a while, and gives some idea of how aridly nature can be if she tries. A couple or three hours, however, will bring you to the border of the pleasant valley of the Mimbres, where you find that strip of herbage which just divides the desert from the town."

Las Cruces and the Organ mountains, and the line that divides the two are prominent on the descriptive pages, as are almost all the points of interest in Arizona through which the Borderland route passes.

The prospectus says that the book is issued to help turn the tide of traffic from Europe to the beauties of the United States. The Borderland route is recommended because the section does not block traffic in the winter and the road is open the year round.

AUTO TURNS TURTLE; NO ONE IS INJURED

J. W. Jackson's Car Meets With Disaster on Boulevard, Ray Struck by Auto on Stanton.

Sunday was a day for automobile accidents, due to the blizzard and the high wind. Three accidents occurred Sunday, each of which resulted in personal injuries to the occupants, or pedestrians.

J. W. Jackson's Ford touring car was going south on Mesa avenue Sunday afternoon when a street car came down Boulevard toward Oregon street. To avoid a collision J. A. Pettit, who was driving the car, turned sharply into Boulevard and turned turtle. Mrs. Jackson, who was in the rear seat with a small baby in her arms, was not injured. Pettit, who was driving, had his hand cut by the glass from the windshield, but Mr. Jackson was not injured. The crowd assisted the men in righting the car and it was driven home under its own power.

The street car claim department denies that the accident occurred and says that the accident resulted from the auto driving up Mesa avenue on the left side of the street, turning into Boulevard to avoid an accident with another car, coming south on the right side of Mesa avenue.

Boy Struck by Auto. J. Torres, aged 12, was one of the victims of an automobile accident Sunday afternoon. Frank Swatzen, an automobile driver, struck the boy by Capt. W. D. Greet, and released on a $200 bond.

Torres and a companion, according to J. Evans, one of the witnesses, were playing in the streets on Stanton near Third. Torres, it was said, was running the ball when he was struck by the machine. In an unconscious condition, the boy was brought to the police station, and later to the Hotel Dieu, where it was reported Monday morning his condition was improving.

Struck by Auto but Uninjured. Julian Vasquez, another Mexican boy, was run down Sunday afternoon by an automobile driven by Ben Rowan. Rowan, the police said, fell out of the machine about the time the boy was struck. Neither was much injured. The accident occurred at the corner of Overland and El Paso streets.

AUTO WRECKED IN COLLISION AT GLOBE

Two Cars Going 30 Miles an Hour Meet; Both Drivers and One Passenger Sustained Injuries.

Globe, Ark., March 24.—A Pope-Hartford car, driven by Fred Hendrickson, and a Ford, driven by J. T. Johnson, both machines traveling at the rate of about 30 miles an hour, met in a head-on collision on the road between Globe and Miami, throwing the two drivers and five passengers out and demolishing both machines.

The Ford, traveling toward Globe, the Ford toward Miami. The drivers, it is said, seeing each other near a point on the road to avoid passing the other machine, but the Ford, which they reached the place at the same time and in endeavoring to pass each other, collided.

Jack Tor received several cuts about the head and face and a severe shaking up. H. F. Nielson sustained a broken ankle and flesh wounds about the hip and limbs. A passenger, whose name could not be ascertained, suffered a broken nose and flesh wounds. Others received severe bruises. The injured men were taken to the hospital. Both machines went over the embankment and were damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars.

Suit has been filed here by counsel attorney Johnson, on behalf of the state, against the Miami Copper company, charged with violation of the hour labor law, charging 15 separate offenses.

At a meeting of the Globe lodge of Elks, No. 439, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Exalted ruler, J. V. Johnson; president, leading knight, William G. Reed; esteemed knight, G. C. Simmons; secretary, J. T. Brown; treasurer, J. T. Wright; J. T. Brown; J. T. Wright; trustee for three years, J. H. Pratt; delegate to grand lodge, Joseph E. Mayer; alternate, Angus McAlpine.

A temporary injunction has been issued by Judge Walter Stuart, against the board of supervisors of Gila county, prohibiting the board from permitting the incorporation of the town of Miami. Final hearing in the case will be held on April 2.

At a meeting of the motor car expert of the Arizona Eastern railroad, and Mrs. M. C. Sanford, of Cochise, Ariz., were present here by Ray Robert Herron. Both parties are widely known in the state.

Major Charles Hine, vice-president and general manager of the Arizona Eastern railway, in an interview here, stated that the Southern Pacific of Mexico, which is under his supervision, had suffered the loss of over 200 bridges during the past year. Mexican rebels burned them.

BIG SPRINGS FORMS FAIR ASSOCIATION

Big Springs, Tex., March 24.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Big Springs fair association it was unanimously decided to organize and proceed with the plans for holding a big district fair this year. The following were elected officers: J. J. McDowell, D. W. Christian, William Fisher, I. E. Smith, T. H. Johnson, J. C. McKinnon, and J. J. McDowell, treasurer. G. J. Jackson, J. I. McDowell and I. E. Smith were appointed a committee to collect the fair stock that has been subscribed and incorporate. The name of the association will be the Big Springs district fair.

James E. Morris, who has been secretary of the Y. M. C. A., located at the corner of 10th and Harrison streets, resigned to take a similar position at Denison, Tex. His successor has not yet been chosen.

J. W. Whitley, of Merkel, has moved to this city and bought the business of J. A. Vasson Drug company. W. H. Brennan, former citizen of this city, was badly hurt near Loving, N. M., by an auto in which he was riding turning over with the car. He is engaged in business at Seminole.

GORILLA CAUSES SCARE IN LOWELL

Blaine, Ariz., March 24.—Lowell was thrown into a panic when a wild gorilla, with a carnival company, escaped. The animal was being fed, when it suddenly attacked its keeper, knocking him a dozen feet away and severely cutting his scalp, and then rushed out of its cage and off the grounds. The animal was finally cornered by a crowd of boys and men and put up a fight with stones and sticks were thrown at it. The keeper arrived in time to save the animal's life and succeeded in getting it back into its cage.

A movement is on foot to change the location of the fire station from its present headquarters in the city hall building to the old city hall, which will be vacant following the installation of the new jail in the city hall. It is also proposed to move the police station in the present quarters of the fire department, thus having the jail and station under one roof.

ALTA VISTANS TO MEET WEDNESDAY

To discuss matters of interest in that section, the Alta Vista Improvement club will have a meeting Wednesday night in Austin Park chapel. President S. E. Patton announced a call for the meeting today. The property owners will discuss the matter of drainage and street grading, the improvement of the Alta Vista public school grounds and the improvement of the street car service. President Patton, however, said the residents of that section to be present.

Your Wife's Future

Is probably assured if you live. BUT—suppose you don't! Ever think of that? The safest way is to secure a policy in a good strong company while you are well—then place it beside her plate some night and watch her face when you say: "This, dear, is for you in case the unexpected happens to me—as it may." Don't wait for her to ask you to do it, though—for that's a mighty delicate position to put her in! Select a strong company with ample assets, a long record of efficiency, and a policy which costs less the longer you have it—the Union Central Life kind. Don't experiment. No other is "just as good." Remember that! The Union Central is nearly 50 years old—pays highest annual dividends to its policyholders—has over Ninety-three million dollars assets—and the lowest net cost record the world over. Make me prove it!

Mob Worries English Suffragettes. London, England, March 24.—A great crowd of youths armed with various kinds of missiles, tin whistles, mouth organs and bells, gathered in Hyde park Sunday prepared to repeat rowdy scenes should the suffragettes attempt to hold a meeting. The women, however, wisely refrained, but the crowd, out for trouble in any event, bussed men who declared themselves to be sympathizers with the suffrage movement.

A New Method of Baking Cakes

Mrs. Nevada Briggs, the baking expert, says:

"There is just one way to make your cakes rise high and evenly—give them time to rise before a crust is formed and the latter is stiffened by cooking."

"If using a gas, gasoline or oil stove, light your oven when you put the cake in and keep the flame low until the cake has doubled in bulk; then increase the heat until it is evenly browned and will respond to the pressure of the finger. If using a coal or wood range, leave the oven door open until the cake is in; then turn on the drafts and by the time the oven is at baking temperature, the cake will have raised sufficiently."

For rich, moist, feathery cakes Mrs. Briggs always recommends

K.C. BAKING POWDER

It is double acting and sustains the raise. You can open and close the oven door, turn the tin around in the oven or do anything else necessary, without any danger of making the cake fall.

Try your favorite cake next time with K.C. Baking Powder and see how much higher it will rise. Make it just as you always do, with the same quantity of baking powder. While K.C. is less expensive than the old-fashioned baking powders, it has even greater leavening strength and it is guaranteed pure and healthful.
